

2ND INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP ON MIGRATION AND FAMILY ECONOMICS

Paris La Défense, France
June 19-20, 2023

Call for Papers

The International Workshop on Migration and Family Economics (2nd Edition) will be held in the Paris La Défense campus of IESEG School of Management on June 19-20, 2023.

This workshop is organized by the IESEG Research Center on Family, Labor, and Migration Economics (IFLAME) in the context of the project MALYNES and aims at presenting cutting-edge research papers at the frontier of the Economics of the Family and the Economics of Migration.

CONFIRMED SPEAKERS

We have the great honor to welcome the following keynote speakers:

- Martha J. Bailey (University of California Los Angeles)
- Christian Dustmann (University College London)
- David McKenzie (World Bank)

and the following distinguished speakers

- Patricia Cortes (Boston University)
- Anna Hannush (University of Mannheim)
- Guillaume Blanc (University of Manchester)

SUBMISSION OF PAPERS FOR POSTER SESSIONS

To encourage young researchers to exchange ideas, projects and perspectives with the above speakers and other researchers about the latest developments of the scientific knowledge in the study of migration and family behaviors, we will organize two poster sessions in the workshop.

We invite submissions (either full papers or extended abstracts) from PhD students and postdoctoral researchers for the poster sessions. Submissions can be sent to iflame@ieseg.fr on or before March 31, 2023. Decisions will be communicated on April 15, 2023. Some funding may be granted to finance travel and accommodation. If you wish to benefit of financial support, please mention this explicitly in your application.
